COACHING TRAINING AND TRANSLATING SERVICES

Coaching

In order to realistically meet the demands of modern day business communication, CCC offers a variety of coaching services. Coaching is intensive task-specific language training. The language trainer's role becomes that of a coach. As such, the language trainer and participant agree upon the goal of each training session. The participant provides the content and work expertise. The coach provides the language expertise and guides the participant in the correct and professional usage of business communication skills.
